Kissing Games Not in Line for Eighth Graders Mixed Parties

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is from a Canadian mother (Oshawa, Ontario) and I regret to say our teen-agers are rushing headlong into adult activities, the same as U.S. teens. This is causing Canadian parents no small amount of anguish.

Our son, Barry, who is barely 14 years of age and in grade eight was invited to a party by a female classmate. We thought it would be all right for him to go.

When Barry returned from the party he proudly exhibited the prize he had won for kissing the longest — 15 minutes to be precise. His partner in the kissing game was a 13-year-old girl.

I was appalled at such behavior and told him so. He replied, "It takes a party like that to wake a fellow up, Mother."

Ever since he attended the party he has been lippy and insolent. I told his father the lads needs a good cuffing. But his father says Barry is feeling his oats and we should not be too severe with him. What is your advice?

Dear D.: You'd better haul Barry back in line promptly — oats or no oats — or there will be no stopping him.

All teen-agers test to see what they can get away with. If you draw the lines clearly and firmly and let them know exactly what the limits are, you'll have no trouble.

Eighth graders should be playing pin the tail on the donkey, not kissing games. And where were the parents anywhere? Tell your son he can't go to night boy-girl parties, and make it stick.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a physician-mother who keeps tabs on your column. You have the responsibility of a judge, referee teacher, and priest. It's fun to see you come through with one good decision after another.

I was especially interested in the letter from the young mother of four children who couldn't get out of bed until noon. I'm suspicious when she says she puts toys in their beds and they play quietly for hours. She probably has them in a dark room with the TV turned up.

No young person should be in bed till noon less the doctor says there is a need — and in my opinion this is one case in a million I feel this girl should be encouraged to take pride in the care of her children and home. Hers is an exacting and demanding job and often she'll get no praise from her husband. The rewards for the mother come 10 to 20 years later. If a wife prepares three meals a day keeps the house clean, and attends to four children properly she will fall in bed exhausted at 10 p.m.

For professional reasons I must remain — Anonymous.

DEAR ANONYMOUS: I hear from many mothers, and some physicians, but rarely do I hear

Sheinwold As Time Goes By

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

All things change. You cannot step into the same stream twice. You are not the person you were five minutes ago. Why shouldn't this apply to bridge hands too?

South tried the club finesse at the first trick, losing to the king. Back came a club to dummy's ace.

It was now time to try the trumps, and South remembered something he had read in a bridge column. He led a low trump from dummy instead of the ten of trumps.

This was the correct play since it protected South at no cost against the possibility of singleton king of spades in the East hand and 9-x-x-x in the West hand. If this distribution existed, South would capture the king and would still have dummy's ten to help capture all of West's trumps.

Finesse Works

The spade finesse worked, and South heaved a sigh of relief. Back to dummy with a diamond, and another low trump from dummy.

But this was the wrong time to lead a low trump. The situation had changed, and South should have altered his play.

When East played a low trump South unsuspectingly finessed with the jack. The finesse succeeded, but East was sure to win a trump trick with his K-9 over dummy's 10.

As we have seen South was right when he led a low trump from dummy the first time. When only low trumps appeared on the first round it was clear that East had not started with the singleton king. There was no need to take out further insurance against this danger.

Nothing could hurt South if the trumps were 3-2. The only danger was a 4-1 break. To guard against this South should lead the ten of spades from dummy for the second finesse.

East must cover with the king (or declarer lets the ten ride), and South wins with the ace. West's discard reveals the situation, and South gets back to dummy to finesse through East's nine of trumps.

Daily Question

Partner opens with 2 NT, and the next player passes. You hold S. K 9 5 2, H. 7 3 2, D. 9 7, C. K 8 5 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three clubs, the Stayman Convention. This asks partner to show a major suit if he can. If partner has no major suit he will bid three diamonds, and you will go to game in no-trump. If partner bids three spades, you will raise to game in spades.

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER

Office at Home

Everything in this room is right for what it is and for the job it has to do. And as designer Henry A. Sheehan, A.I.D. designs it, it manages complete compatibility. Victorian sofa, for filing cabinets and a Morris chair.

It's the well-organized office of a busy farmer at his farm home. What should be new is new, the electric typewriter and adding machine to help conduct farm business and the steel-pedestalled chairs which roll over it so easily, the acoustical ceiling for quiet. What is old is there for sound reason.

Furniture retired from parlor duty provides comfort for consultation, and it is sensibly covered, as the modern furniture is, with long-wearing, easy-to-clean Caprolan nylon. The decorative old clock keeps plain-view track of time and the hanging light is specific illumination.

The farmer's needs as a technically trained head of his special kind of business are amply provided for, from the two desks, one where he interviews salesmen and checks grain and livestock quotations, and the other with files, the typewriter and adding machine, record and reference books and magazines at hand.

Like its counterpart in the city, the office adds personal touches for warmth and individuality. Here there are pictures and models of favorite and prize-winning animals, guns, decoys and an old stoneware jar filled with hand-made walking sticks.

As the two-part sketch shows, simply by grouping the old furniture with a sturdy table and a colorful Caprolan nylon rug at one side of the room, Mr. Sheehan has created set-apart atmosphere which touches the efficient room with ease. Not an easy feat in any office, especially in one so open, and one of the many reasons that the office is attracting special attention in its showing in New York at the National Design Center, sponsored by Allied Chemical Corporation.

Appleton Man Talks to Club

GREENVILLE—Police Lt. Vilas Burmeister, Appleton, head of the juvenile department, spoke to the community club of the Wide Awake School on his work with the juvenile delinquency problem.

Mrs. Wendell Breitenbach and Mrs. Emory Christianson were in charge of the program.

A Halloween party is scheduled Oct. 26 for the parents and children of the school. The parents will bring the sandwiches and the club will furnish doughnuts, coffee and milk. Mrs. Kenneth Julius and Mrs. Emory Christianson are co-chairmen of the party.

The lunch committee for the evening was Mrs. Joseph Simons, Mrs. Carl Rusch and Mrs. Harold Schroeder.

2 Rescued Uninjured From Fox River After Waves Swamp Boat

Two boaters were pulled from the Fox River near Lutz Park about 3 p.m. Sunday when their small rowboat swamped.

They were Albert Miller, 33, 115 Gardners Row, and Thomas Priebe, 28, 1201 Jardin Court. The two were picked up by Duane Arts, 1001 W. Glendale Ave., and Lee Eisch, 1106 Green Grove Road, who were at the park dock and heard the cries for help.

Arts and Eisch rowed to where the boat swamped and put Miller and Priebe in their boat. Miller, owner of the boat, said the small craft hit waves and went down "stem first."

The two men were not injured.

Selecting a United States Senator

The fire and drive that have been associated with many political campaigns in Wisconsin in the past are somehow not present this year.

To get out the vote it is often helpful to have a spirited, highly partisan and emotional campaign. We do not have many of these factors this year. That could be a good thing. If it means that people of Wisconsin are making a choice on a strictly logical and intellectual basis it would certainly be an improvement. The candidates for governor and those for senator have been hammering away in an apparent effort to convince the people of the correctness of the several stands they have taken. Only occasionally has there been an angry flare-up and these have not persisted long enough to gather much of a public following.

However, if a correct decision is to be made the people need certain information. Last Sunday the Post-Crescent devoted one full page of type and pictures to each of the two candidates for governor, John W. Reynolds, the Democratic candidate, and Philip Kuehn, the Republican candidate, each put forth their position in response to questions asked by members of the editorial staffs of the Green Bay Press-Gazette and the Post-Crescent. Tomorrow Alexander Wiley, the Republican candidate for reelection, and Gaylord Nelson, the Democratic candidate, will put forth reasons why they think they should be chosen to serve Wisconsin in the United States Senate.

Again, their statements were made in response to questions by six members of the editorial staffs of the Press-Gazette and the Post-Crescent.

Senator Wiley, who was first elected to the United States Senate in November, 1938, tells in some detail why he believes the people of Wisconsin should return him to office. Governor Nelson, who is now completing his second term as governor of Wisconsin, gives his answers to the same questions telling why he believes that he should replace Senator Wiley in the Senate. In many respects these articles should be more interesting to the voters than were the reports of the candidates for governor. The issues in the race for governor are much better known to the people than are those in the contest for the Senate. Wisconsin people have had a fine opportunity to learn the issues in the contest for governor during the past four years.

The issues in the contest for the Senate are more obscure. But in these full page articles about each candidate published tomorrow, the differences should be made quite clear. Every person intending to vote for senator next month should give some attention to these articles.

Our Policy on Cuba

The Administration in Washington seems to be talking out of both sides of its mouth regarding independent forays in the Caribbean against shipping to Cuba. It is difficult to tell whether the apparent confusion is intentional or the result of the malady that plagued the Kennedy advisors at the time of the Cuban invasion attempt.

England has made it known, although not through any official protest, that it is concerned over the lack of protection for its ships in the Caribbean. The worry comes principally from the announcement by a Cuban exile group called Alpha 66 that it plans to attack any ships carrying anything to Cuba. There may be bases of Alpha 66 in the United States but, as the State Department pointed out, there are Cuban exiles operating in and from other Caribbean ports which are not under United States jurisdiction.

Meanwhile two large and influential unions have announced intentions of boycotting ships of any line that carry goods to Cuba. One union has called for a worldwide shipping boycott against Castro's regime. Private American citizens have been helping to train Cuban exiles for guerrilla fighting, according to interviews with those citizens.

There are actually two laws against such activities. A section of the Federal Criminal Code forbids raids by Americans against other countries or other ships or raids from United States territory. The Logan Act of 1799, seldom used but still on the books, prohibits any private dealing with a foreign government unless authorized by our government. Foreign policy is and always has been exclusively a federal prerogative.

On the one hand we have taken an official stand that the United States will not flaunt international law by a real blockade of Cuba while at the same time we are exhibiting an inability or unwillingness to patrol the entire Caribbean. This may be intentional so that such countries as England are duly warned. Obviously our government would like to see Castro tossed out but it is not quite up to accepting the reality that we may have to do the tossing.

This policy—if it is a policy—may be extremely damaging to the reputation of the United States. It had a tragic result at the Bay of Pigs. It could serve to increase Communist aid to Cuba and the piecemeal destruction of ill-organized Cuban exile activities. As Wisconsin Congressmen have pointed out, there is concern, at least in this state, over what seems to be a lack of official policy over Cuba. The government even denied at first the findings of reporters that there had been a step-up in Soviet aid to Cuba.

Apparently there is not even an official authorization for the negotiations of James Donovan with Castro in attempting to buy with food and medicine the freedom of prisoners in Cuba. Such "go ahead but if you're caught, we don't know you" policy may be all right for espionage. But the hands-off-but-not-quite attitude toward Cuba doesn't seem to be accomplishing anything.

The Old Refrain Is Ancient History

The narrowness of international viewpoint among the delegates of some of the new nations was indicated last week during the maiden speech of Premier Ahmed Ben Bella after Algeria was admitted to the United Nations.

While declaring that Algeria intended to follow a neutral course and not get involved in the East-West struggle, Ben Bella vowed to work toward the liquidation of all colonialism. But when he listed the countries still under the control of colonial powers Ben Bella cited only Angola, Rhodesia, Nyasaland and South West Africa. He didn't mention Hungary, Poland or East Germany as colonial possessions or Cuba or even West New Guinea now that the Indonesians are replacing the Dutch in control.

No one can particularly blame Ben Bella for his concentration upon ending western style colonialism. Fighting it has been almost his whole life and he has been imprisoned and risked death innumerable times during the battle. But his viewpoint is tremendously distorted. He is tilting at a windmill with no sails and practically no breeze. He has chosen to ignore or slough over the real terror in the world in the Communist bloc and the drive for power that, if successful, would once again make Algeria a subservient state with no voice of its own.

The West can generally afford to shrug off such speeches as Ben Bella's. But there is a real danger that many of the neutrals will go on fighting a battle that was won long ago and lose the struggle that is very real and very dangerous today.

$10 Million Aquarium; It's Tall Fish Story

From Sen. Proxmire's Newsletter

At a time when your pocketbook and mine are being pinched to pay the enormous cost of running the federal government, it is the height of folly for that government to spend our hard-earned dollars on a pure luxury.

That is why I fought hard on the Senate floor last month against a bill authorizing $10 million to build a national aquarium in the District of Columbia. To spend millions of your dollars on a gold-plated fish bowl

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

JFK meets his third African leader within a week. He's becoming the instant Dr. Livingston.

Republicans figure they could get double mileage out of a Rockefeller-Goldwater ticket. Goldwater could debate Lyndon Johnson — and the winner could take on Rockefeller.

Bob Kennedy wants to fine Mississippi's Gov. Barnett $100,000. Mississippi theme song: "Save your confederate money, boys. The Yanks shall fine again."

Some new car models have swing-away steering wheels. Slogan: "For the man who has everything — including the stomach to go with it."

Cuba isn't as safe for Castro as he thinks. Judging by the summer-long pictures, the Kennedy family is training to take the island by water skis.

is extravagance at its worst since no significant need for this aquarium has been established and there is absolutely no excuse for building it at this fantastic cost.

In its report on this bill the Senate Public Works Committee conceded that the $10 million "would exceed the cost of any private commercial aquarium now in existence."

This applies to public as well as private aquariums. San Francisco's Steinhart Aquarium (original cost, $300,000) is being entirely rebuilt for only $750,000; Shedd Aquarium in Chicago cost $4 million in 1929; $3 million of which was donated; New York Aquarium, built in 1937 for an initial $1½ million, will cost several million more when completed.

Commercial aquariums include Seaquarium in Miami, costing $2½ million in 1955 and Marineland of the Pacific in Los Angeles, built in 1954 at a cost of $3½ million.

In comparison the proposed D.C. aquarium would be the costliest fish bath in the country. Apparently the Washington fish will enjoy every advantage of a Fifth Avenue salon except Swedish massages.

BY ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressionally speaking, the South has risen again — and is in firm control.

President Kennedy is saying that this November's election must produce a Democratic Congress if his programs are to thrive. What he isn't saying is that he has a Democratic Congress right now, and that he finds it a little less than wonderful.

For one thing, many conservative Democrats line up with Republicans to defeat him on key votes. For another, some committee chairmen who could be responsible for nudging Kennedy's program along are doing their best to block it.

It is here that the South shines.

SEVEN OUT OF EIGHT
Let's pick the top eight Senate committees (the choice has to be arbitrary) and see who are their chairmen:

Agriculture, Sen. Allen J. Ellender (La.).

Appropriations, Sen. Carl Hayden (Ariz.).

Armed Services, Sen. Richard B. Russell (Ga.).

Banking, Sen. A. Willis Robertson (Va.).

Finance, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (Va.).

Foreign Relations, Sen. J. W. Fulbright (Ark.).

Judiciary, Sen. James O. Eastland (Miss.).

Labor, Sen. Lister Hill (Ala.).

The South's score: seven chairmen out of eight committees.

Numerically, at least, House committee chairmen don't have such a pronounced southern accent.

Here are eight of the most powerful:

Agriculture, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (N. C.).

Appropriations, Rep. Clarence Cannon (Mo.).

Armed Services, Rep. Carl Vinson (Ga.).

Banking, Rep. Brent Spence (Ky.).

Education and Labor, Rep. Adam C. Powell (N. Y.).

Judiciary, Rep. Emanuel Celler (N. Y.).

Rules, Rep. Howard W. Smith (Va.).

Ways and Means, Rep. Wilbur Mills (Ark.).

HOLD TWO KEY SPOTS

Two of these spots are particularly vital, and both are held by southerners.

Ways and Means, presided over by that unspectacular but knowledgeable Arkansas lawyer, Wilbur Mills, is the most potent committee of all. It originates money bills, and money is what makes a government go 'round.

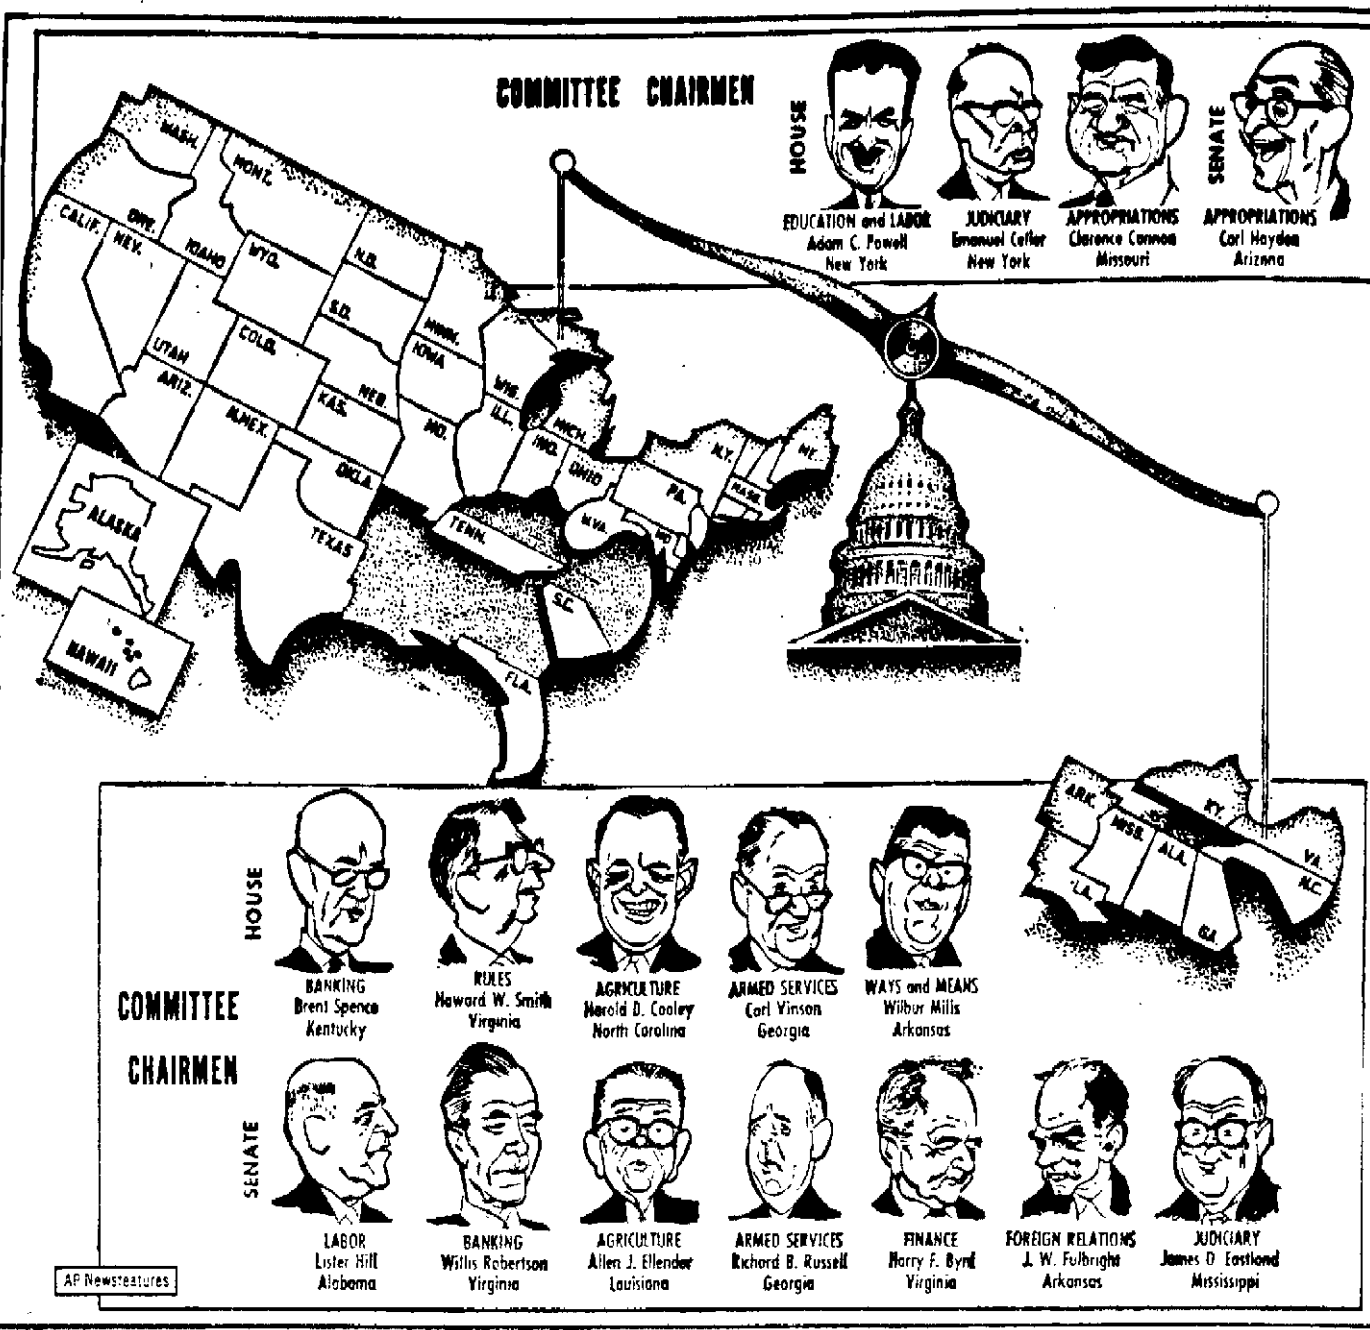

Rules, conducted by that courtly, canny Virginia gentleman, Howard Smith, plays a major role in deciding what bills are to reach the floor and under what conditions.

Like so many other aspects of Congress, a chairman's power is chiefly negative. He may not be a driving force himself, but by skillful heel-dragging he may block other forces from driving. The youth gets its great advantage because Congress — much more determinedly than a labor union — clings to the seniority system. The longer a Senator or Congressman hangs around, the more certain he is of heading an important committee.

Since the South is predominantly one party, the southerner is often home free if he can win his Democratic primary. And back he comes to Washington, to pile up more seniority.

Now, a word of caution: many a southern chairman supports John F. Kennedy on most issues. Others may support him one day — and desert him the next.

As a former Congressman, Kennedy knows it doesn't matter whether he likes this or not.

People's Forum

Writer Believes Airport Plan Should be Put to Referendum

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The county airport controversy has been considered from the standpoint of just about everyone and everything except the people who must pay for it. Has there been any consideration given to asking the people of this county what they think about this matter? The people of this county should have a chance to express themselves at the polls after giving consideration to the following:

In light of the fact that no airport has ever been built for the "estimated" cost, are they prepared to see their county board seeking further funds to complete this facility? The first cost of this airport will eventually prove to be the smallest part of the total outlay. If this airport is to serve the purpose its advocates have in mind it will require further expenditures, and not just for maintenance. "We must remain competitive" will become the war cry in the battle for more funds. Are the people ready to pay this bill?

The planned facility is being referred to as a "jet age" airport. If this is the case, do the voters of this county believe that the present site is far enough removed from the city of Appleton, for many reasons, not the least of which is safety?

Much has been made of the proximity of the Winnebago airport to the city of Oshkosh. It is claimed that this situation presents safety hazards and that room for expansion is not available at the Winnebago site. The people of this county are entitled to know if our county board has taken steps to "insulate" the proposed airport from similar problems. Specifically, has the board options to buy the surrounding land to prevent residential encroachment on the approaches to this airport? If so, is the money for these options a part of the original estimate? Residential encroachment always follows the establishment of an airport if preventive measures are not taken well in advance.

Brown and Winnebago Counties have thriving airports and airline service due to foresight. Neither will be rewarded for this by completely taking away their airline service. This would mean that North Central Airlines would have three stations to permanently maintain in fifty miles. In this situation can develop in this area, it can and will develop in others. Unprofitable operations bankrupt business concerns. Airlines in this country manage to operate only because of government subsidy. Some of this is obvious, much of it is well hidden. Do the people of this county wish to have a hand in increasing this form of "Private" enterprise? They will be helping to pay for it, for when an airline gets in trouble, the subsidy is increased.

Appleton Ryan Forceful in Plea

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Oct. 20, 1962.

«Excerpt from letter to Outagamie Democrats from Sam Ryan Jr., former editor of the Appleton Crescent who was in the field with Barstow's 3rd Wisconsin cavalry».

I have read with great care the able address put forth to the Democracy of Wisconsin by a recent gathering of Democrats in an informal State Convention. I have also perused the masterly review of said Address by M. H. Carpenter, one of the ablest Democrats in the State.

Without designing to enter into any argument, I wish, as a Democrat of the strictest school, holding no affinity or affection for any of the political schisms of the day, asking for no partisan favors and shrinking from no political opposition or ostracism, most solemnly and emphatically to protest against that portion of the Address which pretends to commit Democracy against the fullest and freest exercise of the War Power on the part of the National Executive, by condemning arrests in "loyal" states and insisting on the writ of habeas corpus in all sections of the country, and the trial of offenders against Military and Civil Law in the States or Districts where the offenses charged were committed.

It is anything but a compliment to the Wisconsin regiment, now in Kansas, five-sixths of whom are Democrats, to convey the idea that they are overriding the Constitution and Laws of the land every day of their lives.

The Third Cavalry in particular has been doing Provost Guard duty all summer, making almost daily excursions and expeditions into the nests of guerrillas and traitors.

Do you fellow Democrats of Outagamie County suppose there is one of them who would pay any attention to write of habeas corpus when they had captured men of that stamp?

Allow the writ of habeas corpus to obtain on our border and every guard house and jail would vomit forth a horde of open and secret traitors who are now prevented, by the wise exercise of the War power on the part of the President from committing or conniving at treason.

The same sweeping denunciation will apply to our Military Commissions which supercede criminal courts where it is evident that criminal courts cannot, owing to circumstances, administer exact and impartial justice.

If — as we have done — try a guerrilla robber and murderer for an offense committed in Missouri, where we have undoubted proof that a conviction will never be had, no matter how strong the testimony — where all from fear have taken the Oath of Allegiance, and the greater portion of them have afterwards taken up arms, or sheltered, fed and

Who really stands to benefit from this airport? Certain industries will base their planes here. Some of their employees and some other people will take an airliner out of here. What percent of the people of this county will make no more use of this airport than as a place to take the kids on a Sunday afternoon ride? Will enough of the benefits to the few rub off on the rest of us to justify the initial costs — or the costs over the next ten to twenty years?

The airport issue is important. If this program is carried out it will be costly over the years. In view of all that is involved, why has not the County Board voluntarily taken this to the people in a referendum? Is the board afraid that the people would vote it down? If this is the case can we say that the board truly represents the people of this county?

A referendum on this matter would certainly not establish any precedents. This has been done before. If we are to have a new airport let it be the decision of the residents of this county.

The loose outside door had been reported to Bradley Field at about 8 p.m. by pilot Harold Gould, 38, of Alexandria, Va. Two minutes later, Gould radioed back that the door had gone and Miss De Mottiere had been "ejected."

After landing the twin-engine plane with all 47 passengers safe and sound, Gould helped State Police plot his approach course in an effort to pinpoint the spot where the stewardess had fallen.

A helicopter equipped with searchlights buzzed back and forth over the course guiding the searchers on the ground.

However, it was Robert Swingle of Farmington, a town several miles west of Hartford, who found the body.

Swingle had gone out to investigate a noise and had found a woman and other debris from the plane in his yard. He called police.

Swingle then began a closer search of his property and found the body of the stewardess about 60 yards behind his house.

Farmington police said one local resident claimed to have heard a woman's scream at about 8 p.m.

Businessman Remembers Delivering Election 'Extra'

BY LEONARD JACOBS

I had had my application for a newspaper route filed at the Post-Crescent for some time. One day a friend of mine informed me

This week — National Newspaper Week — the Post-Crescent is presenting comments by several of the community's business and civic leaders. Each was a former newspaperman and the articles concern their regard for their first start as a young businessman and the attitudes it taught them in early life.

This evening's article was written by Leonard Jacobs, partner of Jacobs Bros. Meat Market, Appleton.

hat there was a vacancy and called on the circulation manager immediately. He gave me the route because he felt I had been alert in applying so soon.

The route extended down College Avenue east to Alton Street, in area in which I was able to meet many businessmen and college students. Each person I met impressed me in a different way, the experiences in selling the papers to them and talking with them, then making my Saturday collections, was invaluable to me in later life.

This all happened back in the good old days of 1911-1912, the election year of Woodrow Wilson. Every day looked for us to bring the news of the election and we were all up early in the morning to deliver the "Extra."

Then, too, there were the ap-

India was reported to have decided to ask Bhutan to allow Indian forces to enter that country to strengthen the Himalayan kingdom's defenses against Red China.

The fighting on the northeast frontier is just east of Bhutan. While the little kingdom is building a modern army with the help of India, it has resisted such requests in the past.

A dispatch from Calcutta said the rising menace of the Chinese Reds may lead Bhutan to reverse its decision. Bhutan's premier, Jigme Dorji, is leaving for New Delhi Sunday for high level defense talks.

Menon's report that Chinese ground forces had fired on Indian supply planes recalled Peiping's threat earlier in the week to force or shoot down intruding planes.

Flying Troops

India has been flying troops and supplies by helicopter and plane into forward areas at both ends of the frontier. Air transport is necessary because of the rugged approach to these areas from the Indian plains. The Chinese have easier supply routes from Tibet and Sinkiang.

Menon's statement that no Indian military planes are operating on the front was a denial of a Peiping charge that an Indian jet fighter intruded over the frontier Friday. Menon clearly meant nontransport planes when he said military planes.

The battles are being conducted in altitudes of 11,000 feet and higher. Snow has been falling in the past few days in the northeast battle area.

The Chinese reported the Indians attacked in the northeast at 7 a.m. Assuming this is Peiping time, it would be half an hour before the Indians say the Chinese attacked.

Chicken Survives 8 Days in Refrigerated Rail Car With Turkeys

RUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Railroad workers were still trying to figure it out today. How a chicken survived eight days in a refrigerated rail car loaded with frozen turkeys.

The chicken, still very much alive, arrived with the turkeys Friday from North Dakota. A refrigerating company official said "Nobody knew how it got on the train."

The temperature in the car ranged between six and eight degrees below zero.

He declined to predict next year's picture but said in general "The first half of 1963 will be a testing period. We will learn then whether there is enough steam to give expansion a second wind or whether we will experience a mild recession."

Heller was expected to assure the council today that the administration concurs with the council's view that an early 1963 tax cut is the best way to stimulate economic growth.

The Business Council's own leaders seemed dubious that the downturn foreseen by their consulting economists will occur. Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp. and chairman of the council, told reporters "I am not at this point forecasting a downturn."

And the head of the council's committee on the domestic economy, F. R. Kappel, board chairman of American Telephone and Telegraph Co., said "Hell, no," when asked whether he considered the predicted minor dip a recession.

The consensus of the consultants was for a drop of only about $2 billion from a record annual production rate of about $560 billion a year in this quarter.

Parole Board Refuses To Free Moonshiner Serving Life Term

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Georgia Board of Pardons and Paroles has refused again to free moonshiner John R. (Pat) Hardy who is serving a life term.

Hardy was convicted of murder in 1951 in the death of one of 41 persons who died after drinking moonshine liquor which Hardy admitted mixing. It was a concoction of wood alcohol, corn liquor and water.

The state board, which considers Hardy's case annually, voted unanimously Friday against clemency.

Care Forced Off Road

Witnesses who followed the Stark car on State 45 minutes before the accident occurred said the car had been driven recklessly on about a 10 mile stretch of highway before the accident. One witness said his car and a car in front of his, had been forced off the road near U.S. 10 and State 45 by the car driven by Stark.

Louis Colla Jr. route 1, Hortonville, told police he was about to make a telephone call to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department reporting the car when he saw the ambulances going to the scene of the accident.

Hable and Stark were returning to Oshkosh from a visit to one of Stark's relatives up north. Hable was not carrying a wallet when he was killed and had to be identified through an investigation by the Winnebago County Sheriff's Department late Friday night.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said Hable died of internal chest injuries.

Shriver Tells 'Problems' of Peace Corps Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver says President Kennedy may have picked him to head the Peace Corps because he would find it easier to fire a brother-in-law if things didn't work out.

Shriver married to Kennedy's sister Eunice, gave the tongue-in-cheek explanation of how he came to head the corps at a National Press Club luncheon Thursday.

Kennedy selected him Shriver said, because "everybody thought it was going to be a political fiasco and it was easier to fire a relative."

Then, in a more serious vein the corps director said "coming down here as an unknown and the brother-in-law of the President wasn't the best way to start."

Military Prosecutors In Korea Appeal Jail Sentence for Chang

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Military prosecutors have appealed the 10-year prison sentence given former Premier John M. Chang, opening the way for a possible stiffer penalty by the military appellate court.

The move Friday followed an appeal for acquittal by the 63-year-old ex-premier contending he was innocent. A general court martial Sept. 27 convicted Chang of giving 100,000 won ($700) to a member of a group plotting against Gen. Chung Hee Park's military government.

Chang was released recently on bail after the army chief of staff granted him freedom although not clearing him of the charge.

Under Korean laws, the higher court could give Chang a sentence heavier than the original one.

Nason on Education Inconsistent Grading Practice Can Injure Your School Child

BY LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Professor of Education
University of Southern California

Many teachers guard their right to grade as they please as some speech or religion.

That's fine—as long as it does not harm other people.

But lack of consistency in grading among teachers does harden students.

Last June, for instance, two boys graduated from the same high school.

One had been identified as a superior student and placed in special classes where he had more demanding teachers. He graduated with a B average.

The other boy stayed in the regular classes and graduated with an A average.

The A-average made college admission easy, with several offers of scholarship.

The B average not only limited the choice of college, but also the possibilities of scholarships.

Honor Classes

Some high schools inform colleges that a student has been in a special or honors class, but colleges do not necessarily take this into consideration.

With so much depending these days on grades, it is up to school administrators to eliminate injustices.

Here are some faulty grading practices used in our schools:

Down-grading a student because he is not working up to his capacity.

If a student earns a C average and is given a D because a teacher feels he is capable of B work, the system is wrong. His parents do not receive a true report of his work.

Grading on attendance

When a college freshman failed

a literature course, her inquiring parents were told by her professor: "Here is her final examination paper for the course. It was the best paper written in the class! Her failure was for too much absence."

Since this student was able to demonstrate superior work in the subject while missing much of the class instruction, she certainly deserved a high grade in the subject.

Poor Testing

Determining grades by tests that do not measure proficiency in the course material.

In a conversational Spanish class, a student who could scarcely speak the language received an A, while an excellent conversationalist received only a B.

Grades in this class were determined entirely by a written final examination, rather than by the student's ability to converse in Spanish.

Discrepancies in grading practices between teachers in the same school.

I have heard some teachers brag that they never give A's. But another teacher of the same subject in the same school gives A's to about a third of the class.

In this case a student can receive an A or a C depending on the class in which he happens to be registered.

Inequities of grading within a single school can be eliminated only when administrators exert pressure toward proper and uniform grading practices. Neither parents nor students can do anything about this.

Counselors or teachers with training and experience in test construction and analysis must be allowed to take the lead in educating the faculty to this end.

5-Year Sentence White African Worker Suffers House Arrest

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—If Helen Joseph gets in a traffic jam driving home from her downtown office she steps on the gas to get out of it fast.

Otherwise she may be in trouble with the South African government, because for the next five years she has to be home every day at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Joseph, a graying white woman, is under house arrest—the first such under new political control laws exercised by Minister of Justice Balthazar Vorster.

New Sentence

This means among other things she is confined to her home from 6:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. She is forbidden to have visitors there except a doctor—who must be considered nonsubversive.

She cannot leave her home on public holidays or on weekends, cannot attend any political or social gatherings and must report to the police every day except Sundays and holidays. Furthermore, she is silenced here and cannot be quoted by word or in writing.

If she breaks any of the restrictions she could be jailed for up to three years.

The Johannesburg English-language Martineaux Daily Mail has the squad cars and told Gehrke lined "Mrs. Joseph's Home is to drop the shotgun or Empey Her Jail."

243 yards, 17 more than had been chalked against West in its previous four games. The winners scored only five times and failed to complete any.

But they didn't have to pass. Parilli, who collected 134 yards, an iron man stint of 38 carries, always got the vital stripes by the yardage. Twice in the Indians' final drive to the winning field goal, they were in the third-down situations. The first was on the West 36. Kopitz, who carried four yards to make it back to the 20, and the second time on the West 23, he slammed five yards to the end zone.

It was Kopitz, along with Billy (Fierth), who broke off chunks of four and five yards per carry taking Oshkosh 69 yards in 16 plays for a second quarter touchdown that gave the Indians a 7-0 lead.

The battle of division leaders on Sunday will find Houston at the yard of right guard and endie booted what turned out to be the winning point.

West had taken the early lead on a halfback West kicked a 20-yard field goal after the Wildcat made only one yard in three attempts from the Oshkosh 14.

Bill West then scored the touchdown as West marched downfield with the second half kickoff. He whipped over from four yards out but his kick the point blew wide.

Maryland Loses Thriller

Mira Passes Miami To 28-24 Triumph

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"That George Mira is just fantastic," was the verdict among 49,000 football fans who watched theanky quarterback pass Miami to a spine-tingling 28-24 victory over previously unbeaten Maryland Friday night.

The 6-foot 175-pound junior from Key West completed 21 of 31 passes to break a 14-14 halftime deadlock and bring Miami from behind three times.

Miami Coach Andy Gustafson called it "one of Mira's greatest games" and he had special praise for the Hurricanes' comeback after Maryland's Tom Brown took the opening kickoff and raced 98 yards to score.

Maryland used a variety of tricky formations to keep the Miami line loose and score on the home team in every quarter.

When John Hannigan missed the try from placement after Brown's run, Miami used 11 plays to take the lead, 7-6.

Dick Shiner's passing and Len Chiaverini's running put Maryland in front, 14-7, but Miami tied it in a dozen plays good for 70 yards.

When the Miami line held, Maryland settled for a field goal and went into the final quarter leading 17-14.

With Brown, Chiaverini and Murnis Banner carrying, the Terps ground out 59 yards to score and it was up to Mira again. He completed four out of five pass attempts for 73 yards and the final touchdown with only 3:39 left in the game.

Shiner then took to the air and completed six of eight pass attempts that carried to the Miami 17. His toss to Brown was intercepted on the Miami 20 by Mark Panther and there was less than a minute left. Mira ran out the clock and the Hurricanes had run their season's record to four wins and a 17-3 defeat by Louisiana State.

"That Brown is one of the greatest athletes I ever saw," Gustafson said of the Maryland halfback who caught six passes for 72 yards. Mike Funk grabbed three yards and Chiaverini gained 33 yards in two receptions, including 22 on a tricky lateral play.

Nick Spinelli caught six of Mira's bullet-like tosses for 86 yards and has the best record in the league, 14-7, but Miami tied it in a dozen plays good for 70 yards.

When the Miami line held, Maryland settled for a field goal and went into the final quarter leading 17-14.

Big Eight Leaders Break Tie at Half; Whitefish Bay Wins

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oshkosh and Plymouth picked up football victories by the narrowest of margins while several other schools clinched conference championships in Wisconsin football action Friday night.

In a wild finish at Green Bay's City stadium, Oshkosh edged Green Bay West 10-9 with a 19-yard field goal by Jim Luedtke with one minute, 40 seconds remaining. It was the first time in five years that West has lost more than once in a season. Oshkosh has a 4-1 mark, good for second place in the Fox River Valley conference.

In another squeaker, Plymouth virtually wrapped up the Eastern Wisconsin Conference championship as it nipped New Holstein 16-15. Both teams had a pair of touchdowns and one safety. It was Larry Gentine's two extra points for Plymouth that provided the victory margin.

Luxemburg Wins Title

Luxemburg overwhelmed Casco, 47-7 to win the Peninsula conference title with a 4-1 record. Kenny Dax scored three times to lead the Luxemburg team.

Madison West showed its neighbor Madison Central no favors as it scored its fifth straight Big Eight Conference victory, 33-7. Central held West to a 7-7 tie at half before the Big Eight leaders caught fire. An 80-yard touchdown pass from Don Risley to Tom Campbell early in the second period put West ahead to stay. In other league action Beloit edged Racine Park 7-6 to take over sole possession of second place. The two teams were tied for the runnerup spot. Bob Champion's extra point provided the winning margin for Beloit.

Auburndale Wins

Auburndale, undefeated in play this season, blasted Gilman 62-0 for its sixth straight triumph. Junior quarterback Mike Vandee scored three times and passed for five other touchdowns.

Stevens Point Pacelli clinched at least a tie for the title in the Central Wisconsin Athletic Conference by beating Marshfield Columbus, 28-12.

La Crosse Central, led by Dave Colburn who scored five touchdowns, blasted Marinette 52-26 to remain tied with Wausau for the lead in the Big Rivers Conference. Wausau beat Eau Claire Memorial, 28-13.

Whitefish Bay continued to win in the Milwaukee Suburban Conference defeating Cudahy 32-7 for its 12th straight victory. The Bay holds the undisputed league lead with a 6-0 record.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hunters difficult to spot. From underneath, the Scaup wing shows a dark edge.

The uninitiated, the side-by-side pictures of flying Scaup and other ducks look almost identical. The bonus shooting will apply this season in the Atlantic, Mississippi and Central flyways, officials said.

The Scaup population is comparatively heavy compared with other species which were severely reduced by prairie drought, the announcement said. Scaups nest primarily outside prairie areas.

The service emphasized the identification difficulties in cautioning hunters against mistaking Scaups for other species.

"Even expert hunters have difficulty in distinguishing Ringneck ducks from Scaup while on the wing," the service said.

The permissible bag of two Scaups a day is in addition to the regular federal-state limits that apply in the various states of the three flyways.

Starts New Home Career

Lane Says He's Too Busy to Miss Baseball

CHICAGO (AP)—Trader Frank Lane, who engineered more than 325 deals involving more than 500 players as a baseball executive, embarks on a new home career tonight when the Chicago Zephyrs of the National Basketball Association take on Cincinnati.

"Do I miss baseball? Don't know," said Lane. "I've been too busy to wonder about it."

And Lane could very well be right. Since taking over as general manager of the former Chicago Packers he has changed the club's name to Zephyrs, hired a new coach in Jack McMahon and has four players remaining from the roster which finished out the 1961-62 season.

Switches Base

In addition he has switched the team's home base from the International Amphitheatre to the Coliseum.

"Well, let's see," said Lane. "I started by trading Dave Piontek for the rights to Larry Staverman. Now Staverman's a helluva ball player. He's still in the other league but you never know what will happen there so we might wind up with him one of these days. Then I..."

Lane went on reeling off a host of names involved in his deals and then stopped short.

"You know," said Lane, "trading isn't the tough thing in this league. Signing your draft choices is far more difficult. In baseball, it didn't take much more than money to get a youngster to sign. Now in basketball, you're dealing with college graduates who have other means of earning a livelihood."

"You have to convince these boys that they can play basketball and still have a future. We chased Terry Dischinger around for months until we got him. But we let him have his way. He will continue his schooling which means he'll miss a lot of games. But it's better to have Dischinger for 60 or 80 games than none."

Lane is convinced he can put professional basketball over in Chicago where the sport has been anything but successful.

"Our club lost over a quarter of a million dollars last year," said Lane. "But I can put it over. If you give Chicagoans something worthwhile, they'll go for it. And we're going to have a pretty good ball club."

The gorillas—now 3 years old—are being reared in the zoo hospital. Moore told his fellow commissioners if funds aren't appropriated soon, the apes will be big enough to tear the hospital apart before their new home can be built.

Runerup Hilbert climbed to within percentage points of the Little Nine Conference leader, Wrightstown. Friday afternoon with a 13-0 victory over Denmark, a 4-0-2 record while Hilbert's mark has now been boosted to 5-1-1. Ties count as a half game won and a half game lost.

Omro and Hortonville fought to a 6-6 tie; Reedsville edged Freedom, 6-0; and Winneconne rolled over Shiocton, 45-0.

Hilbert's defensive stalwarts—consisting of ends Jerry Thiel and Gary Schwalenberg; tackles Gerry Borneman and Dale Hernon; middle guard Paul Kester; plus linebackers Dennis Roehrig, Mike Halbach and Roger Schneider—have held opponents to only 28 yards on the ground in their last two games.

Jerry Hackbarth connected with Thiel on a 17-yard pass play to open the scoring in the second quarter. Roehrig scampered off tackle for 44 yards for the second marker in the third stanza. Borneman added the extra point by placement.

Both Hortonville and Omro scored in the first period but failed to push over on the extra point plays. Larry Schimke skipped 26 yards off his own left tackle for the Polar Bears. Bob Lee rammed in from the 5 following a 61-yard drive for the Foxes.

Hortonville had several scoring opportunities in the second half but failed to produce for the homecoming crowd. Schimke came the closest to scoring when he raced 10 yards to the goal line but fumbled into the end zone.

The Polar Bears were on the Omro 5 with one second to play but a pass interception foiled the scoring attempt. Hortonville ran up 157 yards rushing in the second half to Omro's 48.

Reedsville scored in the first period on Roger Matzke's quarterback sneak and then held on for the win. Matzke's sneak climaxed a drive of 65 yards. A Matzke-to-Howard Stelzer pass set up the TD.

of the game.

FVL got the ball via the punting of Lakeside soon thereafter, and moving from its own 45, Lillge went over for the tally from the 3 of the hosts.

Verlyn Dobberstein stole a Warrior aerial and set up the Appleton squad on the enemy's 24. Lillge crashed into the end zone for the last TD from the 3 yard line five plays later. The score was now 46-0.

The Blue and White tallied their lone marker against the third Fox Lutheran defensive platoon following this, as junior halfback Ross Stueber pushed the score across from the 3.

"Toujours en Garde" is the byword at Bud's Barker House, high standard dog kennels. Yes, always on guard for your family pet, the Barker House stands for watchfulness and care. It is located on Breezewood Lane, off Highway 41, west of Neenah.

There is never any need to worry about your dog, when you entrust him to the watchful care of Bud Larimer, owner and manager of Bud's Barker House. Here, the finest care available for your pet, ranging from high standards of cleanliness, protection, healthful food, and personal attention. The Barker House is completely enclosed by Cyclone fencing for added protection in guarding of dogs. Each pet has a separate indoor and outdoor run, completely fenced. The dogs are free to run and play in the sunshine or rest comfortably in the kennels. Inside the kennels there is maximum cleanliness, central heating and is kept at a standard temperature. The food, too, is high standard here, so you know that when you are back from your trip, if your dog has had his vacation at Bud's Barker House, he will be healthy and happy. Larimer said today that if the owner wishes, arrangements can be made to bathe and trim the dogs. Larimer himself has had almost 40 years of experience with dogs. He has bred, owned and shown two bench champions. Telephone for details of boarding your pets at PA 2-7893. That is Bud's Barker House.

Fairmont Promotes Egg Nog

Heat it, freeze it, stir it or mix it—nothing's quite so versatile around the holidays as Fairmont Egg Nog. That's the story Fairmont Foods plans to tell consumers through store demonstrations, special displays and advertising during November and December. The purpose behind the whole campaign is to help dealers sell more Egg Nog. Fairmont officials believe too many families limit their use of Egg Nog to the traditional bowl of holiday cheer. The way Fairmont sees it, Egg Nog can be used for just about everything but stuffing the turkey. As a special treat for the kids at lunch or after school, Fairmont suggests a glass of protein-rich Egg Nog, straight from the carton or mixed half and half with milk, and for bigger appetites—a holiday float, made by pouring Fairmont Egg Nog over Pink Divinity Ice Cream, another Fairmont holiday special. For a warm start on cold winter mornings, Fairmont offers a hot mug of Egg Nog, seasoned with a little nutmeg for a spicy flavor. During the day, Fairmont hopes to persuade the housewife to cook with Egg Nog—"just substitute it for milk in vanilla or butterscotch pudding for a holiday flavored dessert." In case the consumer wonders how she can keep enough Egg Nog on hand for all these uses, Fairmont has the answer there, too. Buy extra cartons and put them in the freezer until needed. All of these "Holiday Hostess Hints" will be covered in Fairmont newspaper advertising scheduled for the week of December 10th in the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Aim at Completion Of Ramp by Dec. 1

Officials, Contractor Set 'Tight' Schedule for Parking Structure

The big push is on to get the city's new bi-level parking structure at Washington and Division Streets completed for occupancy by Dec. 1.

City officials and representatives of the Meyer Corp., general contractor, met at city hall Friday afternoon and mapped out a timetable which was admittedly "tight."

W. T. Collings, the city's consulting engineer, said the target date for turning the lower deck over to the city would be Dec. 1, while upper deck completion was set for Dec. 10.

Anxious for Completion

Mayor Clarence Mitchell and other city officials indicated they were anxious to get the structure completed "as soon as possible" for the convenience of Christmas season shoppers.

Farm Bureau Votes Against Quotas on Milk

Calumet Unit Voices Opposition to Medicare for Aged

FOREST JUNCTION — The Calumet County Farm Bureau Thursday evening expressed opposition to any program establishing quotas on milk production, federal aid to education and any government controlled program of medical care for the aged.

The expressions will be presented to the state convention at Madison next month. The present sales tax was endorsed, but a more general sales tax was favored for complete elimination of real estate taxes and reduction of personal property taxes.

The group favors leaving reapportionment to the states and not to the federal government, and wants one part of the state legislature based on population and another on area.

Edgar Steinhach, Brill town director, is newly elected president. Alfred Bender of New Holstein continues as vice-president. Newly elected secretary-treasurer is Albert Ludwig, director from Stockbridge. Willard Krueger, Will. Stuebing, Alfred Bender and day to notify the clerk of change. Victor Geiser were chosen delegates to the state convention.

Amendment of a by-law raises the annual $10 dues to $15. The Second Ward voters casting ballot additional $5 is intended for a lot at Park School. Third ward fund to construct an office building. Fourth Ward voters at Nicolet School and Fifth Ward voters at the Vocational School.

The Queen Registered unregal surprise as Joan Werness, Minneapolis, was slyly crowned by Lawrence College quarterback Gary Just, right, of Green Bay. Attendants in the Lawrence homecoming celebration this weekend are Ginny McKee, left, 924 E. Alton St., and Ann Peterson, Minneapolis. The Coronation took place Friday evening at a pep session in Memorial Chapel.

Omro to Get Improved Water Supply

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A more reliable supply of water of better quality for the customers of the Omro water utility in Winnebago County is on the way.

The city has been authorized by the public service commission to add a well to its single well source of supply, install softening equipment and construct a reservoir and auxiliary facilities at a cost of about $95,650. The commission said construction must start within a year.

The city administration explained that its single well has been in use for a considerable time and that another source should be provided to provide assurance of continuous and adequate service. A single industry is now calling for water that amounts to about half of the existing system capacity.

The commission also noted that "if a fire were to occur during the time of peak industry use, a serious situation could develop."

The well will cost about $6,000, the pumphouse about $20,000, softening equipment $19,000 and the reservoir about $15,000, according to a tentative budget submitted to the state regulatory agency.

Boy Scouts of Kimberly Urge Voters to Register

KIMBERLY — As a community service members of Boy Scout Troop 44 of Holy Name of Jesus parish have been touring the village this week asking adults whether they have registered to vote.

Last year was the first time advance registration for voting was necessary in the village and Mrs. Katherine Lochschmidt, clerk-treasurer, has been making a concerted effort to get 100 per cent voter registration.

Scouts, dressed in uniform, ask adults if they have registered, if they know when election day is and if they know where to vote. In concluding they ask people to vote or to stop at the clerk's office to be registered.

Identify Man Electrocuted At Oshkosh

Neale Schumacher, 34, Killed Friday At Airport Hangar

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County authorities have identified the victim of Friday's electrocution at the county airport as Neale Schumacher, 34, 1117 Georgia St. Oshkosh.

Schumacher, an employee of the Badger Concrete Co. of Oshkosh, was killed at 12:05 p.m. when a truck boom he was working to unload concrete blocks touched a high power line carrying 7,200 volts.

A second man, Nile Neta, 23, 2711 Vinland Road, Oshkosh, remains in serious condition at Mercy Hospital with electrical burns across his back and neck. He also is suffering from shock.

Robert Albright, 214 Merritt Ave., received burns on his hands but did not require hospitalization.

Neta, who was employed by the Albright and Son Construction Co., and Albright, were burned when they attempted to go to the aid of Schumacher.

The accident occurred at an airplane hangar being built by Albright at the southeast end of the Winnebago County Airport.

Schumacher was controlling the hydraulic boom and sling from the outside of the truck. As he swung the first load of blocks over the side of the truck, the boom touched the power line which leads to another hangar.

The victim was free when the power was shut off. Schumacher was pronounced dead at the scene by Winnebago County Coroner Dr. G. A. Steele.

Lawrence Teacher Has 2 Magazine Articles Printed

Two articles by Dr. Warren Beck, professor of English at Lawrence College, are appearing in current publications.

In the autumn issue of The Virginia Quarterly Review, he has written "Told With Gusto," an essay review of Faulkner's last book "The Reivers."

In the autumn issue of the Yale Review, he has authored "Faulkner: A Preface and a Letter." This is concerned first with a discussion of Faulkner's preface to his novel Sanctuary, correcting derogatory misinterpretations of it which have appeared in newspaper and magazine pieces occasioned by his death.

The second part of the article deals with passages from a letter written by Faulkner to Beck in 1941, "conveying," says Beck, "much the same humanistic concepts as those expressed a decade later in the famous Nobel prize speech, by which I attempt to advance the claim that Faulkner's practices as an artist was consistently high-minded, and that the use of the Sanctuary preface to suggest he was a sensationalist is not only a careless misreading of that preface but of all his work."

Company Supervisors Earn Certificates At KVS Institute

KAUKAUNA — Twenty supervisors from area industries received certificates Thursday after completing a three-day supervisory training institute at the Kaukauna Vocational and Adult School with Dr. Russell Moberly as instructor.

Firms sending personnel to the institute were Thimbury Pulp and Paper Co., Combined Locks Paper Co., Badger Northland, Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co., H. C. Weber Co. and Ariens Co.

609 Pupils Enrolled In Little Wolf School

MANAWA — There are 609 seventh grade, 64 in the second grade school pupils enrolled in the grade, 63 in the fifth grade and newly created Little Wolf Community School District, according to a report issued recently by George W. Barber, county school superintendent.

The enrollment includes 250 in the graded schools, 225 in the Manawa city school and 133 in the rural schools. All of the schools have been combined into one district.

The enrollment consists of 18 at Block School, 23 at Fairfield, 30 at Knowledge Hill, 18 at Little Wolf, 24 at Spring Brook and 20 at State Road in the rural area. Enrollment at the graded schools are 226 at Manawa city, 47 at Maple Hill, 66 at Ogdensburg, 72 at Royalton and 65 at Symco.

A survey shows the eighth grade has the biggest attendance with 80 pupils enrolled. There are 76 in the third and fourth grades, 73 in the sixth grade, 71 in the

11 Nations Joining OSC U.N. Salute

OSHKOSH — Eleven nations will be represented in a special program at Oshkosh State College Tuesday when the college's International Relations Club pays tribute to the United Nations.

Nadar F. Darehshori, Iran, club president, said that the program would be a series of presentations by students representing their own country's view of the United Nations, and then present some cultural aspect of the country through its music, dance, or literature.

Countries to be represented include the United States (with a special unit from Hawaii), China, Korea, India, Thailand, Iran, Kenya, Greece, Germany, Denmark and Bolivia.

The program, which is open to the public, will be held in the union lounge at 7:30 p.m. including commentary by Dr. Roger E. Guiles, OSC president, who was a member of the governor's United Nations commission.

The International Relations Club has 140 members, 35 of whom are from abroad. The group meets regularly to discuss world affairs, listen to special speakers and view movies produced in various countries. On a service level the club helps new students from abroad adjust to life at the college.

Iowa Senator Hits Kennedy Policy at Luncheon for Wiley

Miller Calls Failure to Cope With Communism Big Campaign Issue

MENASHA — The Kennedy policy "is to play touch football with the Russian team that wants Eisenhower, minority leader Sen. to play tackle," Sen. Jack Miller, Everett Dirksen, majority leader junior senator from Iowa, Sen. Michael Mansfield and majority charged at a Republican luncheon Friday afternoon.

The luncheon, sponsored by the Neenah and Menasha Republican clubs at the Elks Club, was attended by about 200 Republicans.

Miller, who was introduced by Wiley, called the big issue in this year's elections "the failure of the new frontiers to cope with the international Communist conspiracy."

He said it was essential that Sen. Wiley be re-elected "or the South will get more power in clubs at the Elks Club, was at proportion to its population." The real reason the South has so much power in congress now is because so many of its senators and congressmen have seniority which gives them power and responsibility.

Dollar at Lowest

Sen. Miller also touched upon "increases in the number of small business failures and mortgage foreclosures in 1961 over 1960, an increase in the government debt through failure to balance the budget and the decrease in the gold supply" as reasons why Republicans should be elected.

He contended that the reason for the "vacillation rather than action" was the "undue influence of the Americans for Democratic Action" in this administration.

Three ADA members had been in the cabinet, with one still a cabinet member, and 31 others holding top offices.

Sen. Miller listed the ADA as favoring the admission of Red China to the UN and on the Security Council, dropping all trade barriers with Red China, no resumption of nuclear testing no matter what Russia does, and a "hands off Cuba" policy.

"I don't think the people of Wisconsin want any truck with the Americans for Democratic Action," he said to the applause of those present.

"Taxing the Poor"

The speaker termed President Kennedy's medicare program as "taxing the poor to pay benefits to the rich," and said this was one reason why 31 Republican and 21 Democratic senators voted against it.

Sen. Miller also spoke highly of Sen. Wiley's service to the state and nation by quoting what Republican and Democratic leaders alike in the Senate have stated at the college after the parade.

Mob Attempts to Stop Oshkosh State Homecoming Parade

OSHKOSH — A mob of between 200 and 300 students and other youths disrupted traffic in the 500 block of Main Street in Oshkosh Friday night and attempted to disrupt the Oshkosh State College homecoming parade.

Oshkosh police reported the mob, made up of both boys and girls, blocked traffic in the street before the parade and then during the parade pushed around members of a grade school band.

When police tried to break up the mob, the squad car was surrounded but no damage was done. There were no arrests.

Police officials said this was the only incident during the parade and the burning of the "P" like in the Senate have stated at the college after the parade.

Make a Yes-Yes Bird Today To Agree With All You Say

BY CAPPY DICK

I have to do is tweak his neck with your finger and he will nod his head in hearty agreement with "No, you mustn't do that," and anything you say.

To make a Yes-Yes bird you will need four pipe cleaners, a pine cone and a dried seed pod. Use the pine cone for the bird's feathered body (see Figure 3), the pointed end serving as the tail. The bean pod of the wisteria vine

You can make such a bird and place him on your desk. All you

To Your Good Health

Make Certain Milk You Drink is Pasteurized

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am on a milk diet. Raw milk is rather hard to get, so instead of the pasteurized variety, would you recommend buttermilk from a dairy?

Pasteurization was adopted because it prevents so many diseases, such as undulant fever, tuberculosis and typhoid fever. These and others have been traced to milk that became contaminated, either because of disease in cattle, or some other source.

Pasteurization doesn't change the nutritional value of milk. It simply destroys germs.

Raw milk is dangerous. Don't take a chance.

I don't suppose I can quibble with people who insist on trying a milk diet. It is not as good as a balanced one of elements which milk alone cannot provide.

Drink buttermilk if you prefer. But it also requires pasteurization.

Dear Doctor: Is it all right to drink milk with your meal? Someone tells me that one should drink only water with the meal, and milk afterwards. Is this true?

"Someone." I regret to say, is trying to foist off on you an old wives' tale. There's no reason why you shouldn't drink milk with your meals.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes my ears to ring? I am not bothered with wax.

There are several causes other than wax. I've had so many inquiries on the subject that I've rounded things up in a booklet called "Ear Noises: Their Causes and Cures." To receive a copy, send 10 cents in coin. Also send a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Just write to me in care of this newspaper and ask for "Ear Noises."

Dear Dr. Molner: Would eating half a grapefruit after each meal aggravate arthritis?

No.

Average Weight

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the average weight for a girl, barely 11, who is 4 feet 9 1/2 inches tall and weighs 60 pounds. She doesn't look too heavy or fat except for a poddy tummy or spare tire. She has never lost her baby tummy. Should she diet?

She's slightly above average in height and weight for her age. Part of her "tummy" may be poor posture. She undoubtedly will "streamline" at puberty.

Does she get plenty of exercise? I'd doubt if any running diet

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused Do not say, "Being as you want it, I shall give it to you." Say, "Inasmuch as (or, since) you want it."

Often mispronounced Bon mot (witty remark). Pronounce bawn-moh, accent second syllable.

Often misspelled Inculcate (to teach). Inculcate (to inculminate).

Synonyms: Male (adjective), manly, manful, manlike, manish, masculine, virile.

Word study "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word insatiable: not to be satisfied. "The man has an insatiable appetite."

New London Man on Trial For Forgery

NEW LONDON—Ronald Ferge, 20, New London, was bound over to County Court Friday when he pleaded no contest to a charge of burglary and one count of forgery. Municipal Justice Herman H. Platte set bond at $1,000 on each of the counts. Ferge was transferred to Waupaca County jail when he was unable to raise bond.

Ferge was arrested by New London police after he cashed two checks totaling $69 at grocery stores. One check for $42.50 was cashed at Al's Red Owl Store, 416 N. Water St. and the other for $26.50 was cashed at Patten's Food and Locker Service, 302 N. Water St.

After questioning by police Ferge also admitted the Sept. 14 break-in at Rice's Resale store where he took two watches and two rings.

Ferge was released on parole Aug. 29 from Green Bay reformatory where he was serving a term for forgery.

Child Hurt in Tumble From Car

NEENAH — Pamela Brisco, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brisco, 129 Irene St., was treated at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital for a cut under her right eye and minor bruises she received when she fell out of a car driven by her father at 12:15 p.m. Friday.

Brisco had turned the corner from Winneconne Avenue onto Irene Street when the girl fell from the front seat of the car. A Winnebago County squad car driven by Patrolman Fred C. Rasmussen, 733 Elmwood Ave., was damaged on the right front fender when it and a car driven by Kenneth Labby, 27, 502 Monroe St., collided at the intersection of N. Commercial and Canal Streets at 1 a.m. today.

Rasmussen was headed south on N. Commercial Street and skidded 60 feet in trying to avoid a collision with Labby who was crossing from the west to the east side of N. Commercial on Canal Street. The left rear fender of the Labby car was damaged.

Cars driven by Meredith C. Heuer, 24, 1860 O'Leary Road, Neenah, and Edward H. Blank, 60, 148½ N. Lake St., Neenah, were damaged in an accident at the Main and Torrey Streets intersection at 8:35 p.m. Friday.

Government Office Wrecked by Blast

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—An explosion wrecked the office of the minister of agriculture in this South African capital Friday night.

The explosion, heard more than a mile away, blew out inside walls, shattered windows and wrecked steel filing cabinets.

South Africa's major cities have been hit by at least eight cases of sabotage or attempted sabotage this week.

The minister of transport, Ben Schoeman, has warned that saboteurs would be relentlessly dealt with and left no doubt he suspected African nationalists.

Estate of Mrs. Katherine Athearn Goes To Robert S. McMillen, Three Others

OSHKOSH — A Neenah man by Winnebago County Probate Judge Herbert J. Mueller Friday. Three other persons, Mrs. Elsie Cordy, 373 Elm St., Menasha; Theresa Kriha, 1421 Walnut St., Oshkosh, and Otto Schanke, 512 Lincoln St., Neenah, each received $1,000.

Mrs. Athearn left a gross estate of $581,485, and a net estate for distribution of $436,335. The estate consisted of $16,000 in real estate on Fifth Street, $365,938 in stocks in 24 different companies, $166,617 in various government and private bonds, $18,630 in cash, $10,000 in life insurance, and $4,302 in other personal property.

Federal estate taxes were $124,171. Inheritance taxes totaled $40,745 and expenses and claims amounted to $20,929.

Mrs. Athearn's first husband, Robert McMillen, died June 18, 1906. He owned the R. McMillen Lumber Co. in Oshkosh and was a principal stockholder in the Fox River Paper Co. of Appleton. Her second husband, George W. Athearn, died June 23, 1945.

PTA Council Plans Dinner

New Teachers and Administrators Will be Welcomed

Teachers and administrators new to the Appleton public school system will be guests of the Appleton PTA Council at a welcome dinner at 6 p.m. Tuesday at Madison Junior High School.

The dinner replaces the luncheon which formerly was given during the teacher's orientation week.

Other guests will include Superintendent of Schools Royce E. Kurtz, Assistant Superintendent William Spears, the principals of all public schools, members of the PTA Council, and presidents and co-presidents of all local PTA units.

Gerald Schomisch, Council president, will welcome the guests and introduce local officers. Introductions and announcements will be handled by James Retson, principal of Huntley School and the attached schools. Kurtz will lead the grace before dinner.

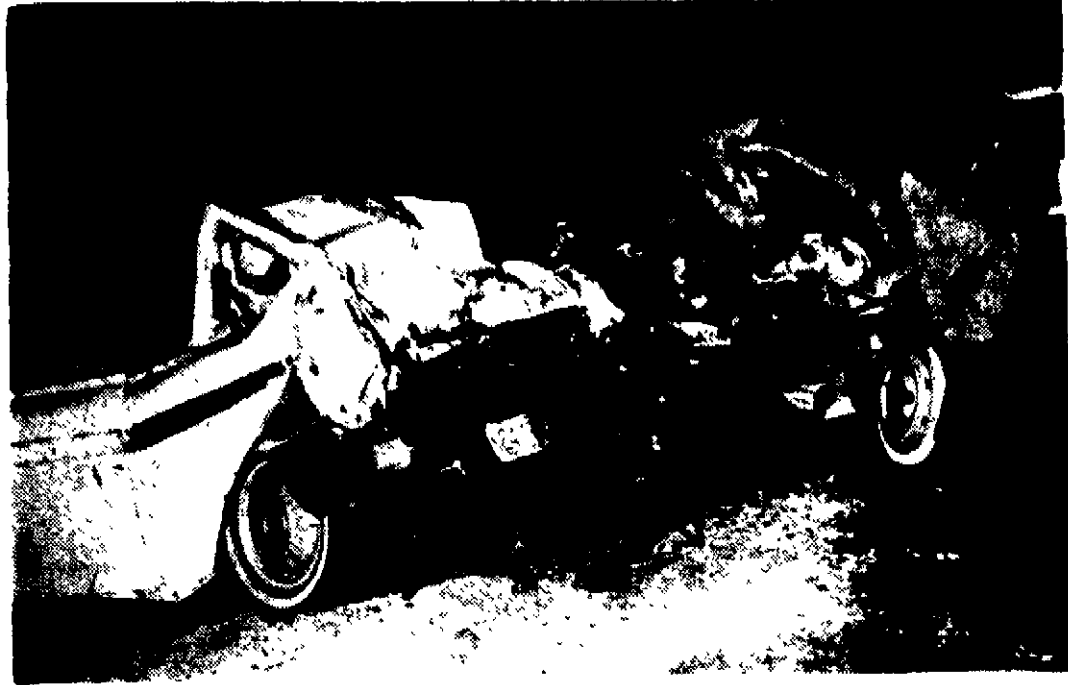

The program will feature Mrs. C. C. Indermuehle of Attic Theatre in a humorous reading, "Pigs Is Pigs," by Ellis Parker Butler.

Co-chairmen for the dinner are Mrs. Russell Berryman, Mrs. Jaro Holy, Mrs. Carl R. Granger and Mrs. Howard Krieser. Richard Gorce, Columbus School principal, is program chairman.

The dinner will be served by Girl Scouts of Troops 25 and 229 of Madison Junior High School. Name tags are being made by Intermediate Girl Scouts of Troop 22 of McKinley School, who also are in charge of setting the tables. Troop 22 and Troop 334, also of McKinley, are responsible for table decorations and centerpieces.

New London Youth Pleads Guilty to Resisting Arrest

NEW LONDON — A 19-year-old New London youth pleaded guilty in municipal court Thursday to a charge of resisting arrest. He was arrested July 4. He was fined $25.

Clyde D. Hanson, 512 N. Water St., was taken to the Waupaca County jail for not paying an $83 fine for being drunk and disorderly. Hanson was arrested on the later charge Oct. 10.

After the July 4 arrest Hanson was charged with both disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. He pleaded guilty to the resisting charge.

While awaiting trial Hanson was arrested Oct. 6 and was

Seminary Professor Lawrence Graduate At Vatican Council

A 1911 Lawrence graduate, Dr. Frederick Clifton Grant, is one of eight American Protestant delegates-observers to the 2nd Vatican council now meeting in Italy.

He termed Pope John XXIII "a holy man of God raised up and sent to this tortured generation" three observers from the Anglican Communion.

His comments on council prospects which appeared originally in a weekly Catholic newspaper were reported in last Saturday's issue of the Post-Crescent.

Concern with "a total disregard for moral standards everywhere," was expressed by Dr. Grant, who

Thomist Speaker To Discuss Impact Of John Dewey

The Rev. Humbert V. Crilly of the Dominican House of Studies, Kenyon College, University of River Forest, Ill., will discuss the impact of John Dewey, educator and philosopher, on modern Quebec, in his second lecture of the fall series to the Appleton-Oshkosh Chapter of the Thomist Association Sunday.

The lecture and forum will be in the auditorium of the Mercy School of Nursing Sunday, following mass at 8:15 a.m. and breakfast in the hospital cafeteria. Mass will be in the doctor's cafeteria because of redecoration work studies from 1945-54. In addition, he spent two terms as visiting professor at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Grant was president of the American Theological Seminary in Evanston from 1927 to 1938; was professor of Biblical Theology at Princeton University from 1938-59 and director of graduate studies from 1945-54. In addition, he spent two terms as visiting professor at the University of Chicago.

The theologian has been a member of the committee on revision of the American Standard Version of the Bible since 1937, and a member of the Vermonter Committee of the American Bible Society from 1944-54. He has been president and vice president of a number of professional societies having to do with Biblical research and theology training.

Dr. Grant has been the author of 20 books, two coming out in the next 15 years have been "The Practice of Religion," "An Introduction to New Testament Thought," "Hellenistic Religions," "How To Read the Bible," and "Roman Hellenism and the New Testament."

He has been editor-in-chief of the Anglican Theological Review and is now serving and chairman of the editorial board of the Witness.

Sociologist to Talk at Xavier

Marquette Teacher
To Discuss Man in American Society

A Marquette University sociologist will give the fourth lecture in the Marquette Alumni College series in Appleton Tuesday.

Dr. Reiss

Dr. Paul Reiss, chairman of Marquette's sociology department, will speak at 8 p.m. in the Xavier High School commons on "Man in American Society."

"Images of Modern Man" is the theme of the five-week series of faculty lectures ending Oct. 30. The series is sponsored by the University and the Marquette Fox Cities Alumni Association.

Reiss was formerly a teaching fellow at Harvard University where he received his Ph.D. in sociology in 1960. A member of the Marquette faculty since 1957, he was named department chairman last year.

He has conducted studies of the Puerto Rican in New York City and in Milwaukee and more recently has completed research on the family role conceptions of college students and on the religious values of college students.

Reiss is an honor graduate of Holy Cross College and of Fordham University, where he received his master's degree in sociology.

Eight Men From Fox Cities Area Enlist in Navy

Eight Fox Cities men recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy and are receiving recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill. and San Diego, Calif.

Navy enlistees from Appleton are Donald R. and Charles H. Arnoldussen, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arnoldussen, 4035 E. Wisconsin Ave.; Wayne F. Burmeister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burmeister, 2109 N. Appleton St.; Paul P. Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Walters, 1517 W. Prospect Ave.; and Herman Paul Domingos, son of Mrs. Clara Ducat, 3836 E. Wisconsin Ave.

Other area men were Alfred A. Arts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Arts, 701 Wilson St.; Little Chute; Elmer H. Felts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Felts, 388 Naymut St.; Menasha; and Jerome J. Wilfong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilfong Jr., 236 Second St., Menasha.

Upon completion of recruit training, these men will be granted fourteen days leave prior to reporting to their next duty station.

St. Joseph Pupils Win Prizes for Posters on School Lunch Week

Fifteen pupils at St. Joseph Catholic School have won prizes in an art contest held as part of the school's observance of National School Lunch Week this week.

Sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils participated in the poster contest on the lunch program. First place winners were Marie McCann, eighth grade, Dan Schweitzer, seventh grade, and Robert Doherty, sixth grade.

Honorable mention winners were John Steger, Helen Kolosso, Suzanne Obermeier, and Kay Mueller, eighth grade; Daniel Bleier, Mary DeYoung, Patricia Schreier, and Lynda Hughes, seventh grade; and William Walters, Barbara Gregorius, Chris Hertz, and Michael Pankratz, sixth grade.

About 700 pupils are served daily in the school lunch program at St. Joseph School. The lunch staff includes four cooks and six volunteer mothers.

The children were served pizza Friday as a special treat for National School Lunch Week.

Arab-American Magazine Makes Mention of Lawrence

Lawrence College is given prominent mention in an article currently appearing in "Al-Hayat Fi America", a magazine published in the interest of Arab-American understanding by the United States Information Agency.

The article, titled "The Varied Attractions of the Small College," is summarized: "Each year a good share of the brightest American and foreign students name a small college as their first choice — and for a number of excellent reasons. This report documents those reasons by focusing on a sampling of 14 front-ranking small colleges: Reed, Antioch, Swarthmore, Earlham, Carleton, St. John's, Lawrence, Middlebury, Wesleyan (Conn.), Keayon, Davidson, Wheaton, Mills and Hovins." "A photograph of student actors being made up for 'The Visit', performed last season by the Lawrence College Theater, accompanies the article.

Peter Glasheen, 1912 N. Charlotte St., packs to leave for training for Peace Corps work in Bolivia. He leaves today for two months of training at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla., and one month in Puerto Rico, and will leave for Bolivia in February. He will be part of a group doing health, social, education and construction work. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Assigned to Bolivia

Appleton Man Joins Peace Corps Group

Peter Glasheen, 1912 N. Charlotte St., left this week for training for Peace Corps work in Bolivia.

Glasheen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Glasheen, will have two months training at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla., and one month in Puerto Rico before leaving for Bolivia in February.

He will be part of the third Peace Corps group to go to Bolivia. The 75-member group will do health and social work, general education, and build homes, and roads Glasheen, who worked on a construction job this summer, is classified as a "heavy equipment operator."

Xavier Parents Plan Action to Complete Field

The Xavier Parents' Club is forming a field development committee to start action on the completion of the athletic field behind Xavier High School.

A master plan has been drawn up and will be displayed at the meeting of the club Wednesday. The master plan contains provisions for two full-size football fields, three softball fields (which will overlap the football fields), tennis courts, handball courts, a track and an outdoor basketball court.

Because the athletic field has not been developed, the need for a fairly well graded area has forced the various football teams to play their scrimmages on what was originally intended to be the front lawn of the sisters' convent.

The field, when developed, will be used by the physical education classes of both departments. The committee hopes to enlist the aid of engineers, heavy-duty equipment operators and others interested in Xavier's athletic program. The committee consists of Brother Peter, Daniel Baer, Frank Wiesner, Clarence Roemer and Jesse Fissel.

Appleton Church to Present Program of Religious Music

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, Appleton, will have an hour-long musicale of religious music at 7 p.m. Sunday at the church.

The program will be presented by the music committee under the direction of Mrs. Clark Gardner, who is a graduate of the music department of St. Paul Bible College, St. Paul, Minn.

The program will include numbers by the choir, quartets and duets, and appropriate readings.

Public Vote To be Held on School Plan

WITTENBERG — Action was taken by the Wittenberg Board of Education this week on the recent recommendations of the Citizen's Advisory Committee.

A special school district meeting has been set for Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. for electors to vote on a building project and remodeling work valued at $450,000. This will include a new elementary school building at Elderon for $150,000, an addition to the Elard Elementary School for $75,000, improvements at the Galloway Elementary School for $10,000 and a class room addition to the Wittenberg High School estimated at $240,000.

According to Carl C. Larsen, board clerk, members have made preliminary arrangements with a representative of Channer-Newmann Securities, Chicago, to borrow $450,000 (pending approval by the electors). It is anticipated that an average interest rate of 3 1/2% will be paid on the ten-year notes.

Confesses He Stole From Parking Meters

MADISON (AP)—A former University of Wisconsin student, James Dunn, 18, of Madison, who with six other young people figured in recent parking meter lootings here, pleaded guilty to three counts of petty theft.

Dunn previously denied the charges and one of damaging property. The district attorney's office dropped the property damage charge and Dunn entered guilty pleas to the theft allegations. The youth was ordered held for presentence investigation.

He withdrew from school following his arrest.

Volcano Erupts In Southern Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Mt. Minamidake, one of Japan's most active volcanoes, erupted late Friday night, belching smoke and lava, the Central Meteorological Agency reported. No casualties were reported.

INSTALL THIS IRON FIREMAN CUSTOM Mark II Oil Furnace Now!

THE IRON FIREMAN CUSTOM MARK II oil furnace is so amazingly economical that the Schmidt Oil Co. Guarantees it will cut your oil, gas or electric heating bills at least 30% during the 1962-63 heating season.

... if you Don't cut your Oil,
Gas or Electric fuel bill 30%
This Winter* ...

SCHMIDT OIL CO.

WILL PAY THE DIFFERENCE!

Schmidt Oil Co. dares to make this startling offer because no customer who has installed the Custom Mark II has reported oil, gas or electric fuel savings of less than 30%—and many have reported savings up to 52%.

The Iron Fireman Custom Mark II oil furnace utilizes an entirely new concept in heating — the induced-draft heating principle. And this revolutionary compact heating plant burns clean — actually "white glove clean."

YOU PAY NOTHING DOWN. Your first payment does not come due until December, 1962. And then you pay as little as $14 monthly. You have up to 5 years to pay. The money you save from lower heating bills can actually pay for your Custom Mark II furnace!

NO EXTRAS TO BUY. Schmidt Oil completely installs your Custom Mark II furnace for you. All pipe, ductwork, 275-gallon tank, day and night thermostat controls and lifetime nylon electrostatic filter are included. Also, Schmidt Oil gives you a generous allowance on your present heating equipment.

ONLY SCHMIDT OIL offers the Custom Mark II for as low as $14 a month. And only the Custom Mark II is guaranteed by Schmidt Oil to cut your oil, gas or electric heating bill 30% this winter!

SEE A DEMONSTRATION TODAY. Drop in at Schmidt Oil Company's showroom. See for yourself how this revolutionary furnace operates. Then ask for a free estimate. You will not be obligated. For additional information, call REgent 4-0400.

*Based on seasonal operating efficiency, comparative thermostat settings and degree days.

IF, after reading this ad, you still feel that this amazing, but proven performance of the Custom Mark II oil furnace is too good to be true, we invite you to stop in at the Schmidt Oil Co. main office at 425 So. Washington St., Kimberly, to check actual records in our files of homeowners who have saved as much as 30% to 50% on their heating bills after installing the Iron Fireman Mark II oil furnace.
